Many businesses have grown internationally and have clients and employees in various locations around the world. The need to reward employees and thank clients does not cease just because they are dispersed to areas where it is not as convenient as sending a gift within the home office's country. It may seem difficult to manage the gifting needs of these from one location, but with Bukoo Gifts we have taken the difficulty out of sending a gift to another country by joining forces with suppliers of name brand gifts in regions all over the world.

By developing relationships with foreign suppliers we have found a way to decrease costs, increase convenience, and shorten the time span in which it takes for a recipient to receive a gift. Our suppliers ship within the region of where the gift is being sent eliminating customs charges and keeping the actual shipping costs low. As with all of our gifts, all costs of the gift are included in selection's list price. It is as simple to send a gift to an employee in your office in Philadelphia as it is to send one to an employee in Munich. We have accounted for all exchange rates and all product prices are listed for the sender in U.S. Dollar and cannot be seen by the recipient.

We also are able to send gifts in 7 different languages including English, Spanish, French, German, Greek, Portuguese, and Italian. The message to the recipient and all necessary instructions and commands can be sent in his or her language.

To send a gift to any of our regions, log-in to the company account, choose the country, amount of the gift, select the language, choose a theme, and enter a personal message to the recipient. To send immediately there is no need to enter a time in the calendar, but to send the gift so the recipient receives it at a specific time it's as easy as entering in the date and time on the calendar at check-out.

”WE DO THE RESEARCH, AND YOU REAP THE BENEFITS.”

For customized gift selections to other regions, we are able to work with suppliers and other connections we have in these regions to create a one of a kind program that expands across all regions of your business. Do not feel limited in your pursuit of a company-wide employee appreciation program, or feel tied to low-cost items for client gifts due to the high cost of shipping, custom costs, and VAT. We do the research, and you reap the benefits. Send a special gift anywhere in the world. Easily.
